“ To my "Dad", I learned of you when i was 16 years old. I always wondered who you were and if you remembered me. I Never got the opportunity to let you know you are a grand dad... I tried to reach out and get in touch but was not successful. There are so many things I will never get to share with you and learn about you. I know that Nothing can ever replace the children you raised and love and I pray that they are able to heal and be comforted as i am knowing you are no longer in pain and that they'll see you again some day. My greatest regret in life is never having known you although I got to meet you when I was 21. I will always regard you as my dad, the man who helped give me life. For that I'm truly grateful no matter what hardships I've had thru it all. I have attached four pictures that i have of you when i was a baby and two pictures of Reagan Lee Jones, your grandson. Maybe you are looking down and will get to see all your loved ones from Heaven. May you rest in peace.
