

Lloyd J. Johnston

November 28, 1930 - April 22, 2019

Lloyd John Johnston, age 88, went to be with his beloved Savior on April 22, 2019 after suffering a hemorrhagic stroke. He is now enjoying the great reward of an eternity with Christ and a sweet reunion with his precious Lorraine.

On this earth, Lloyd was well known for his quiet spirit and impeccable work ethic. He traveled on many short-term mission trips to do what he loved best, working hard for his Lord. Lloyd's self-sacrifice, steadfast faith, and generous heart show us truly what it means to be a servant of God. He took great pride in knowing and studying God's Word, having read through the Bible over ten times in his life.

Lloyd was born on November 28, 1930, in the township of Flos in Ontario, Canada. Lloyd and his wife, Lorraine, raised their family in Meredith, New Hampshire and then moved to Lenoir, North Carolina in June 1976. In 2011, they moved to the hills of West Virginia for their remaining days on this earth.

Those who will treasure Lloyd's memory and continue his legacy of faith are his daughter and son-in-law, Susan and Greg Madison, of West Virginia; son, David Johnston, of California; daughter, Shirley Robbins, of North Carolina; and his many grandchildren and great grandchildren.
