“ Showtime, we've Most Definitely had some Good Times My Brother! 2020 New Years was when she had first kicked it together. I didn't expect you to go so soon, and I remember The Last Day that I had seen you... November the 4th 2025. I wouldn't even have thought that that last handshake would be our last and Final Handshake. I was expecting us to link up again, and Celebrate as we use to. Much Love my Brother, and Know That you will Always Be apart of some Good Shared Memories! Peace My Bloodah! We've seen The Good Days, The Bad Days, and The Ugly Days. Long Live Showtime! You will Not Be Forgotten...

“ My deepest condolences to his siblings, and his only son, family, and , friends. I pray that God will comfort you.I remember when my cousin Mike came to visited me in my hometown, New York City. Mike was excited when he arrived. I drove Mike downtown to Manhattan, and Mike was fascinated by all tall buildings and the crowded streets,and the lights on the billboards. Mike had an awesome time. Mike enjoyed spending with his NY family, and at the cookout. I will truly miss my cousin Mike. Gone but will never be Forgotten. Rest in eternal peace. Luv you Michael ❤️🙏
