“ Although it was a long time ago, in 1993 my dad was incredibly ill in hospital in Northern Ireland, Valerie (one of my dearest friends grandmother) sent out a prayer chain across the states. I will never forget that act of thoughtfulness or indeed those amazing jelly beans that arrived in boxes full of flavours our wee eyes had never seen. Thinking of all the Presley family and holding you in my prayers.xx

“ Valerie was much more than a sister-in-law. She was a "special: lady. I am thankful for her sweet spirit and love she showed for everyone. It amazes me hearing about all the children she had influenced and cared for over the years.. Valerie was a very unselfish lady. You will always be in my memory. You have finally met our mother who died before you came to America. What a meeting!

“ I will always remember Auntie Vals laughter, her hugs that squeezed you so tight! I will miss you, but I know you're in Heaven with your family. I can imagine the laughter going on between you and Auntie Pat and Uncle Jonny. Even though you were across the miles you always took an interest in what I did and always encouraged me. I was so lucky to have you as my aunt. Until we meet again, love you xxx

Have nothing but happy memories and we wish her proper family our very best and offer our sincerest condolences. Taken far too early from us but the powers that be clearly need her to spread her angel dust . May you rest in peace Val. Thank you for such great memories. We will remember you always. “ This woman had a larger influence on my life than anyone will ever know. She was related to me by marriage distantly which that didn't prevent us from being family. This woman taught me everything from the ability to tie my shoe to how to love everyone. She and I met when I was 13, volunteering at the hospital and we instantly connected. From her adventurous spirit and wild stories to her kind heart. I loved her and would volunteer earlier just so we could spend more time with her she was magnetic. She was one of the most genuine, loving, caring, and kind people ever. Always hilarious, always witty, and always wanting to share her knowledge to better others. She taught me to always love the world and make it a better place. The best way to let her memory live on in our hearts and spirits is to love each other and do all we can to make the world a better place. I miss her dearly I hadn't seen her in years but, there isn't a day out of the year I don't use something she has taught me or tell one of her crazy tales to someone close to me. God be with her family, and I hope she can entertain the afterlife like she always did all of us. <3

“ Tom and family,
I am so sorry for your loss. Valerie was one of a kind. She would always come by my office to talk a while. We would talk about clothes and brooches among other things. She loved my "jewelry" and would share about her mother's love of brooches. She will be missed. We would call each other "dahling" each time we saw each other. Loved that lady. You are in my prayers.
