“ I will always remember you sitting in your house surrounded by family, with dogs barking in the backyard watching the highway from the hill. I hope that your passing can bring our family closer together. Love always and forever.

Was sorry to hear of Wilma's passing. She was a hard worker and always willing to help with other's who were too ill to help themselves. She helped my sister in law and brother in law through many hard, sad times. She suffered through many trials and tribulations herself. I pray that she is now at peace and feeling no more heartaches. RIP lady.
